PREFACE

My first remembrances of the "Old Conoconnara Chapel" brings to mind the highly emotional and spirited meetings, especially the old-time revival meetings. This was about 1929 or 1930 when my father and mother would load the family into the old model "T" Ford for the five mile trip to the church at Crowell's Cross Roads. This was usually during the yearly revival meetings. These meetings were conducted by a visiting evangelist. I well remember the "Hell Fire and Damnation" sermons rendered by such well-known preachers whose names are still recognized, especially in Halifax County. Their sermons would range from the topic of love to fear of eternal punishment. Each sermon was lengthy and very explicit. The sermons on love would bring tears to the eyes, and the sermons on eternal punishment were quite the opposite.

After the Conoconnara Church disbanded, the surviving membership attended and later joined other churches at Dawson's Cross Roads and Tillery. Both these churches were formed by former members of "Old Conoconnara Chapel"; the Dawson church ca. 1881 and the Tillery church 1894.

I do not recall when I first became aware of the cemetery that was immediately behind the first chapel. Perhaps it was when the road was changed about 1925 and it was reported that the grave of a close neighbor was impacted. This caused quite a lot of concern. What happened after that I do not know. By 1925 the old cemetery was partially abandoned; however, other burials occurred in the cemetery.

I remember that as a very young boy I would ride with my grandfather in his buggy, and in going from Tillery to Crowell's, we could see tombstones clearly visible from the road as we passed the cemetery. I had heard stories about the ghosts and lights that had been seen or noises that were heard. It was said that after dark the horse would not pass the cemetery as usual. The driver had to get down and take the horse by the bridle and lead it pass the cemetery. My grandfather expressed his strong belief that ghosts were purely imaginary and I was not allowed to talk about them.

As of this writing, this old and honored cemetery has fallen into an advanced state of abandonment. Many years' accumulation of leaves, underbrush, and debris have left this burial ground in a dreadfully run down condition. Many of the grave markers have fallen or were pushed over and covered with leaves. Just how many fallen gravestones are covered by this debris is not known. The writer has obtained permission from the supposed owners to attempt to do some work toward restoring this old and honored cemetery. Somebody should care, for here lies a glimpse of the past.

Before the government began requiring vital statistics in 1913-14, family records such as births and deaths were kept in the family Bible. It is regretted that many of these records were lost, and gravestones would provide the only remaining proof of many people's existence. Much of the history of Halifax County happened in isolated places, and the makers of that history are buried in the local churchyards where generations before them were buried.

It is the hope of the writer that possibly through the publishing of this work, an effort may be made to restore this burying ground of many illustrious citizens of Halifax County.

The idea of writing this book came about in 1988 while I was gathering information for my book "Caledonia." I contacted Mrs. Bessie Goode of Scotland Neck, who not only helped me with information about the former owners of Caledonia, but showed me the original minute book of the Conoconnara Church, beginning in 1833, and permitted me to make a copy for use in later writing this work.

This minute book was old and fragile, but the writing, for the most part, was fairly legible. I made a concentrated effort to copy the minutes exactly as written. I did not guess at the words that were not completely legible. If I could not clearly make out the word, I would put a question mark (?) or a series of I did not at any time paraphrase any of this work.

While reading these minutes you will notice the appearance of consecutive numbers from 1 through 96. These numbers may appear anywhere in parentheses in any given paragraph. These numbers indicate the page number of the original minute book from which these minutes were taken.

At first I was hesitant about printing these minutes, but the more I read them, the more I became aware of the influence that the early Baptist churches held over the religious and social lives of the people under its watch-care. To the best of my ability, I am able to state that the minutes are as written.

The preparation of this work has been long and sometimes difficult, and there are several people and organizations that I must thank for their help. First and foremost, I wish to thank Mr. Dennis Holliday, Jr. for generously offering me the use of the notes that his father, Mr. Dennis Holliday, Sr., used many years ago in getting the highway marker placed near the original location of Conoconnara church. I also wish to thank the Z. Smith Reynolds Library of the Wake Forest University for their help.

I recognize that, in many respects, this history does not meet the criteria of a scholarly work. Providing complete bibliography, footnotes, full index, etc. called for research skills and facilities that I do not possess. My expertise, if any, is in research, not in composition. I have tried insofar as I could, to document and give credit for information recorded here.

The idea of recording this history began about 10 years ago. The challenge has been rewarding, and the sacrifices I made, I do not regret.

The Old Conoconnara Church

The location of this old and honored place of worship and the adjacent cemetery or burying grounds is about 1.2 miles north-east of the Old Crowell's Cross-roads on NC Highway 481 east leading from the cross-roads to Tillery.

The Edgecombe precinct was cut off from the Bertie precinct in 1732, with the Roanoke River as the eastern boundary. In 1741 the county of Edgecombe was established. The same act of the Assembly provided for the establishment of a new parish, Edgecombe.

The new parish had no regularly assigned clergyman until 1747 when the Reverend James Moire, missionary, sent by The Society for the Propagation of the Gospel in Foreign Parts, was transferred from New Hanover county to Edgecombe county.

On August 18, 1747, Stephen Cade, Inn Keeper, deeded to Colonel John Haywood and William Kinchen, Churchwardens of the Parish of Edgecombe, for the use of the parish, a "tract of land situate...being on the southside of the road leading from Captain Lane's to the Court House, containing the just quantity of three acres of land." Enfield was the site of the Court of Edgecombe until 1758 when the county seat was moved to the town of Halifax.

This tract was supposedly for the purpose of erecting a house of worship and a glebe. Construction of the church was begun in 1749. The Reverend James Moire, the first rector, reported to the Society in London, May 2, 1749, that "the church is almost finished."

Just when the church was named is not known. The name evidently came from the Conoconnara Swamp northwest of the old crossroads. This swamp also gives the township in which it exists its name. The church has at times been called "Davis' Meeting House."

When Edgecombe county was divided (Halifax from Edgecombe) in 1759, the Reverend Mr. Moire chose to serve the new St. Mary's Parish, where he remained until he became rector of St. George's Parish in Northampton county in 1762.

The Reverend Thomas Burgess succeeded Reverend Moire in 1759 when he was employed by the church wardens of Edgecombe Parish at one hundred pounds proclamation money per annum and an additional twenty pounds per annum in lieu of a glebe, which was agreeable to an Act of the Assembly.

The Reverend Thomas Burgess was reappointed to Edgecombe Parish in 1760 by Governor William Tryon. Reverend Burgess served there as rector until the American Revolution. The records in the office of the Register of Deeds, Halifax county, show that Thomas Burgess purchased 2,330 or more acres of land in Halifax county, near the church at Conoconnara. It was reported that his parsonage was still standing until early in the nineteenth century.

With the disestablishment of the Church of England in 1776 the Conoconnara church lost its effective leaders and its congregation. As a result the church became so disorganized that all the buildings and land passed into other hands.

On May 24, 1783, and again on October 9, 1790, the Kehukee Baptist Association was held at Davis' Meeting House (Concinnary).

The Conoconnara Church was first listed in the minutes of the Kehukee Primitive Baptist Association in 1811. Since the minutes of the Kehukee Association for the years 1804 to 1810 and 1812 to 1814 are lacking in the Baptist Historical Collection and the Conoconnara Baptist Church is not listed in the 1815 minutes of the Kehukee Association, it may be assumed that the Conoconnara Church became inactive about 1812 to 1815.

During the years 1824 to 1830 the church building was used as an "Oldfield School" in which was taught Webster's Spelling Book, The English Reader, Murray's English Grammar, and Pike's Arithmetic.

The Conoconnara Baptist Church was re-constituted in 1833 as a Missionary Baptist Church and was admitted to the Chowan Baptist Association in 1834.

As further evidence that the Conoconnara Church was reconstituted in 1833, the Reverend Jesse Powell (1772-1860) in his autobiography stated that "the Church at Conoconnara was constituted when I became a member. That was when there were no male members but myself, therefore, the office of deacon and clerk, as also the duties of preaching often devolved upon me." From this biography we found that Mr. Powell became a member of the Deep Creek Primitive Baptist Church, between Dawson's Crossroads and Scotland Neck, about 1800 and was granted a license at Deep Creek and was written upon the church book. Mr. Powell declined ordination, but continued to exercise "my little gift, trying to preach, exhort and pray. Because I invited the Missionaries to preach at Deep Creek they dealt with me...I found it was in vain to strive with them...I applied for a letter of dismissal. After several trials, one obtained, and the church at Conoconnara was constituted when I became a member."

A new meeting house was erected in 1849, and the church in conference set the day for the dedication as "Saturday before the 3rd Sabbath in September. Agreeably to appointment the new meeting house was dedicated to the worship of Almighty God." Reverend C. A. Hendrickson preached the dedication sermon.

On November 2, 1848, William E. Eure, sold to "the Trustees of the Baptist Church at Conoconnara, Jesse Powell, E. T. Clark, John Tillery, Cary Whitaker, Elijah Pope, Jr, Geo. W. Gary & Lewis Hale in consideration of the sum of ten dollars, a certain tract of land to wit being the site on which the Old Conoconnara Church now stands, containing three acres be the same more or less reference to the marked trees." NOTE: This was the identical tract of land sold to the Churchwardens of Edgecombe Parish by Stephen Cade in 1747.

The "free church" built by general subscription, about 1810, and used by Baptists, was replaced by a third building in 1849.

In 1851 the Conoconnara Baptist Church was dismissed from the Chowan Baptist Association, along with others, to form the new Pamlico Baptist Association as a charter member. The Pamlico Association meeting was held with the Conoconnara Church in May 1854.

The church in conference on Saturday before the third Sabbath in July 1860 approved the following petition: "On a petition from Elder Hancock who we hear preaches for the colored members of this church belonging to Mr. Johnston, all of said members were dismissed from us for the purpose of organizing a separate church on the plantation of said Johnston." (The organization of the Johnston church may be presumed to be the forerunner of the present Tillery Chapel Baptist Church.)

Conference met Saturday before the 3rd Sabbath in April 1863 and passed a resolution to take up collection for "Army Calportage." This appears to be the only time that the War Between the States was mentioned.

The Conoconnara Baptist Church was admitted to the Tar River Association in the forty-third session, meeting with the Wilson Baptist Church, Wilson, North Carolina, on October 1, 1873.

Conference met on the 3rd Sabbath in June 1877 and agreed by a vote of 21 to 7 to "move the house of worship to some site to be selected at Crowell's Crossroads." E. P. Powell, J. R. Pope, James Pope, J. C. Randolph and Fred Gregory appointed to select, plan, and make necessary arrangements. Appointed E. P. Powell, O. C. Stallings and J. R. Pope as trustees to hold the church property and site on which the house is to be erected.

Conference met Saturday before the 3rd Sabbath in December, 1877. Elder J. S. Purefoy, being present was invited to sit with us, he preached in the church "now rebuilt tho not quite completed at Crowell's Cross Roads."

On November 5, 1877, B. A. Pope and Wife Anna Futrell Pope, sold to the Trustees of Conoconnara Missionary Baptist Church - Eaton P. Powell, Dr. O. C. Stallings, and Jacob R. Pope, "a lot one-hundred fifty feet by one-hundred fifty feet...lying being and situate in the said County of Halifax...on the road leading from Dawson's Cross Roads to Crowell's Cross Roads... the said Trustees are desirous of removing the said church of Conoconnara from its present site to a place that will better serve the convenience of the members thereof the congregation and general public."

The Tar River Association met in its forty-eighth annual session on October 10-12, 1878, with the Conoconnara Church at Crowell's Cross Roads. In this history making session, led by Dr. James D. Hufham, pastor of the Scotland Neck Baptist Church, the association pledged $1500.00 to "a fund with which to begin the work of preaching the gospel in destitute sections of its territory." This was the beginning of the Associational Missions movement in the Tar River Association.

In special conference held on November 3, 1881, letters of dismission granted to Brethren Dr. O. C. Stallings, B. C. Dunn, and C. A. Williams and sisters Emma Cottenham, Malle J. Powell, Ella Gregory, Rosa P. Dunn, Sallie Stallings, and Hettie Bryan for the purpose of organizing a church at Dawson's Cross Roads. R. E. Peele, Moderator - J. R. Pope Clerk.

In 1907 the Conoconnara Church was dismissed from the Tar River Association in order to help form the Roanoke Association. In 1908 the Conoconnara Church was a charter member of the Roanoke Baptist Association.

In 1933 the Conoconnara Baptist Church was dropped from the records of the Roanoke Association, after a period of almost 150 years of Baptist ministry in the Crowell community. The once active community, as with other communities, found its citizens moving to other places, taking their church letters with them; the young people grew up and moved away; the older members passed away. The last leaders of the church were John H. Pope and son Marcellus Pope, Edgar Barkley, the last Church Clerk and J. V. "Jim" Parks was the last church treasurer.

On February 6, 1939, Marcellus Pope and W. E. Barkley, Trustees of the Conoconnara Missionary Baptist Church, sold to Miss Susan Fitzpatrick in the consideration of $50.00, that tract of land purchased from B. A. Pope and Anna F. Pope on November 5, 1877, on which the church was moved.

On February 17, 1967, Miss Susan Fitzpatrick sold the above tract and church building to J. Jerry Johnson, and it is today being used as a storage barn.

Ministers known to have come from the Conoconnara Church are Robert Edward Peele, ordained by the church, and later served two terms as pastor; David Elijah Bobbitt, who lived across the road from the church, united with the church, later went into the ministry.

Among the pastors known to have served this historic church were Jesse Powell (1833-); Joseph Pender (1836); A. M. Craig (1837-1839); George M. Thompson (1840----); Elder Kone (1855); Elder Bennett (1857); Elder T. R. Owen (1861); Dr. Richard Tillman Vann (1880-1881); Robert E. Peele (1882----); W. J. Hopkins (1883-1884); C. A. Woodson (1885); Jesse Alfred McKaughan, Sr.(1891-1894); D. E. Vipperman; C. V. Brooks; N. W. Bobbitt; Albert G. Wilcox; R. L. Smith.

CONOCONNARA BAPTIST CHURCH

COVENANT

But first give themselves to the Lord and unto us by the will of God, 2 Cor: 8: 5th.

Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together but exhorting one another daily. Heb. 10:25.

We whose names are under written being called as we trust by the grace of God do in the name of the Lord Jesus voluntarily and jointly separate ourselves from the world and give ourselves to the Lord who hath promised to receive such and be their God holding ownership as His and not our own.

We also voluntarily and mutually give ourselves to each other and receive one another in the Lord meaning hereby to become one body jointly to exist and jointly to act by the bonds and rules of the gospel esteeming ourselves henceforth as members of a spiritual body accountable to it bound to obey it subject to its control and no otherwise to separate therefrom than with consent first had or unreasonably refused.

We also voluntarily engage the Lord enabling us to keep the faith once delivered to the saints which we believe contains the following sublime and important doctrines. To wit: The being of a God the Trinity of characters in the God-head, the fall of Adam and his posterity, the corruption of human nature and the impotency of man whereby he was rendered unable to do that which is truly properly (?) and spiritually good. The everlasting love of God, the doctrine of the electing love of God, the eternal covenant of grace, Redemption and Justification by the imputed righteousness of Jesus Christ, pardon and reconciliation through His blood, regeneration and sanctification by the influence and operation of the Holy Spirit, the final perseverance of the saints in grace, the resurrection of the dead and the Eternal Judgement.

That the happiness of the righteous and the torment of the wicked will be endless. Finally we do voluntarily and jointly engage in the strength of the Lord to do all things which He has commanded us to do, particularly to deny ourselves take up our cross and follow the Lord in all His examples and precepts; to assemble ourselves together as often as we conveniently can for the worship of God, to attend our church conferences and keep up a gospel discipline, that we may be accepted in the sight of God and man, that we may live as brethren and be subject to one another in the Lord, also honor and help maintain and obey those who are over us in the Lord.

This is the covenant we now enter into before the Lord. And we solemnly call upon Almighty God to witness the purity of our intentions and the sincerity of our souls in this weighty and all-important business and to establish, --- and confirm the above covenant, we have willingly and unanimously ordered our names to be hereto affixed. This the 11th of November 1833.

RULES OF DECORUM

Article 1st. All meetings shall be opened and closed by prayer or praise by the pastor of the church or some one at his request, and in his absence by one of the deacons or some one at his request.

Special conference July 19, 1882. Whereas our Father in Heaven has been pleased to call to rest our loved benefactor, sage, counselor, true friend, and for more than twenty years devoted and compassionate pastor, Rev. T. W. Owens who

-----x-----
Resolved that with the church in submission bow to God who in his infinite wisdom and goodness has deprived our denomination of a ----?--- so rare, we express our peculiar(?)profound sorrow at the demise of our ex-pastor of such rare attainment in Christ;

That, while we are spared here, we will remember , tending his devotion to us -----he taught us, the purity of life he lived among us and others (pp 75) to attain to that high degree of christian character which his teaching and his living so ----- manifested.

That we hereby express our condolence with his surviving children & relatives to whom we pledged continuation of our high appreciation, and upon whom we beg heaven's rich blessings may abide.

That these resolutions be spread upon the records of this church, a copy be sent to the bereaved family and one to the Biblical Recorder for publication by order of the church.

Committee: J. R. Pope - J. C. Randolph - B. L. Williford.

Special conference Wednesday Aug. 9th 1882.

Whereas our Father in Heaven has in his infinite wisdom and mercy, called home to his great reward, our loved & ---- counsellor, ready friend and consecrated follower of Christ Eaton P. Powell who at the age of twelve became a member of this church, and for forty six(?) years has been a devoted and ---?--- an active member, until Jesus called him higher on Thursday July 27, 1882.

Resolved; That while we bow in humble submission to God who, in his devine love, has deprived us of a member so pure, the denomination of such a noble man of God, and to the poor a friend so true and constant, we also record this expression of grief at the loss of one of such unusually good influence for Christ, and whose gentle & constant admonitions (76) have been such a stay to us at all times, and has permeated our families with a higher regard for christian character.

That, while we are left here to serve, we will cherish his devotion to us, the grand truths he impressed upon our minds, the purity of his life as he moved in our midst.

That we hereby extend to his relatives and friends our sympathy in their grief spread this resolution on our church record and forward a copy to the Biblical Recorder for publication.

SLAVE MEMBERS DISMISSED TO ORGANIZE A CHURCH ON JOHNSTON PLANTATION

✓ "Conference met Saturday before the third Sabbath in July 1860 and after being opened by prayer a door for the reception of memebers was opened. No one came forward. On partition from Elder Hancock who we learned preaches for the colored members of this church belonging to Mr. Johnston, all of said members were dismissed from us for the purpose of organizing a separate church on the plantation of said Johnston. On motion conference adjourned by singing."
